EOSNET
CREATIVE AGENCY

Start thinking about your values

We work to discover typefaces, symbols, colors and styles that effectively translate your company, service or product essence into visible and touchable reality..

... and everything else you need to become interactive

Web sites, intranet applications, interactive presentations and software application interfaces are mainstream products that we offer to our clients. Together with your identity, informational architecture and industry standard processes, we create solutions that give results. These types of media, on the web or elsewhere, provide interaction as the brand

We make websites and brands

BRANDING

Our brand expertise means that we are adept at repositioning an existing brand, or creating a new brand from initial conception.

By researching current markets and our knowledge of various sectors we are able to develop a brand by designing targeted solutions and adding value to a client's business, whether it is a large corporation or a small organisation.

PRINT DESIGN

By combining intelligent design, typographic skills, relevant photography and illustration we are able to create your corporate and consumer literature. Whether your brief is for a corporate brochure, direct marketing, newsletter or magazine, we will help develop your brand to appeal to your target audience.

Our knowledge of print processes and materials enhance the layouts and production of the final product. We are able to liaise with our printers to ensure you receive excellent quality of work at competitive rates

WEBSITE DESIGN AND BUILD

For 10 years we have produced intelligent digital solutions and engaging design for outstanding corporate and consumer clients.

Typically, our on and offline marketing answers these key objectives; to increase brand awareness, increase sales and commercial interest as well as communicating effectively to your target user.

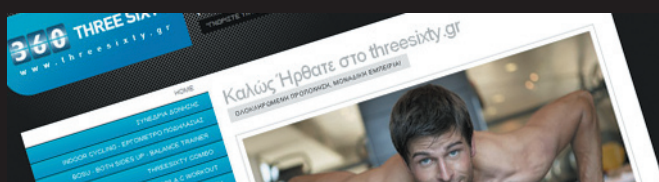

Our programmers work with new technologies and have the experience to create custom online solutions such as websites, ecommerce packages, interactive applications, html newsletters and additional modules.

Understanding how our clients think led us to develop DeepAccess, our cost effective Content Management System that enables clients to manage their own websites.

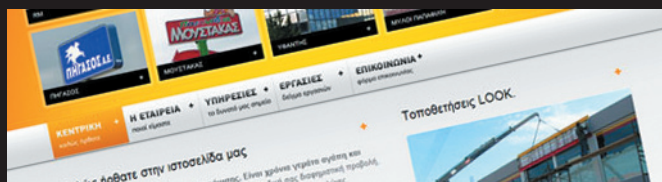

Our core digital capabilities include HTML, Flash and Actionscript, XHTML and JavaScript
